The manual on CD "Archeozoologia, Manuale per lo studio dei resti faunistici dell'area mediterranea" by Barbara Wilkens, is now available. The work, only available in the Italian language, includes a methodological section, a historical section on the principal Italian sites from Neolithic to the Middle Ages, a malacological atlas, an atlas on marine invertebrates, and an osteological atlas. The malacological atlas includes Mediterranean Sea shells of some archaeological interest, land shells and fresh water shells from Italian peninsula and Italian islands. The osteological atlas includes images of the principal mammals skeletal elements together with fishes, birds and reptiles of Mediterranean environment. The production is addressed to students, teachers, archaeologists, archaeozoologists and it is particularly useful for the work on the field.

Minimal system requirements: Computer Pentium 133 Mhz; Graphic device SVGA; 16 MB RAM; Cd Rom Drive 12x; Internet Explorer 5.x or plus ; Windows 95, 98, ME 2000, XP; it is not suitable for Mac.

The CD is not offered for sale at the moment, but it can be obtained for exchange with other publications on archaeozoology, or for exchange with comparison material. For information: barbara.wilkens@tiscali.it
